

Surveys

Services - Surveys

You are curious about

- the satisfaction level of your employees or your customers or both?
- the feasibility of new processes which you have established?
- how your product is perceived and used in the market(s)?
- a first feedback on a new invention you came up with and you may want to officially introduce?
- the acceptance of your training program and how it could be improved from the view of participants?
- ....

We help you in gaining the information you are looking for! Ask us to assist you to specify, create and to conduct your surveys or questionnaires. These may include but are not limited to

- close or open-ended questions;
- free comment fields;
- multiple choice questions; and
- rating or ranking scales, such as Likert scales.

Based on the goal-oriented and consolidated input, you can take the right initiatives to further enhance satisfaction levels and to further improve your processes, products or services.
